It's back to school night and we are getting a chance to meet each other in person! It is very exciting that we get to partner in ensuring our kiddos have an amazing experience filled with learning. Following our morning meeting, we will discuss our curriculum and I will be happy to answer any questions you may have.

Greeting

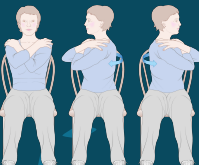

When we greet each other we need to remember 3 things:

1. We give each other eye contact (that tells the person you're talking to that you are listening respectfully).

1. We say good morning to our friend (we want to wish our friends a happy morning).

1. We turn our bodies towards the person we are talking to. (It shows that we are giving them our full attention).

What is something you want to share about your kiddo?
